Judge Scores New Auto Law

LEGISLATIVE CHANGES NEEDED

F. H. Lowe Defends Speed Traps; Extra Session of Solons May Result

A SPECIAL session of the state legislature may be necessary this winter to amend the California Motor Vehicle Act.

Judge F. H. Lowe stated this morning that this possibility had been called to his attention recently by a prominent local citizen with whom he was discussing the traffic situation.

"I am in that frame of mind where nothing surprises me," he admitted. "I wouldn't be surprised if his statement is substantially correct."

Denounces New Law
Judge Lowe added that he had no reason to feel more favorably inclined than formerly towards the new legislation. He denounces it bitterly.

"I am not in sympathy with any law," he declared, "which is so drawn that it shall be a menace to life and property."
The Automobile Club of Southern California, whose influence was felt in the formation of this legislation, is not responsible for the section eliminating speed traps according to Judge Lowe. He asserted that this provision was not contained in the tentative draft of the law.

How It Happened

It was inserted at the instigation of two legislators from the southern portion of the state, one of whom had been arrested for speeding through Santa Barbara and threatened with a jail sentence. Ten members of the lower house and three state senators also were trapped en route to and from Sacramento.

"Objection to the trap is made by persons who do not stop to analyze its psychology," exclaimed Judge Lowe. "The trap was not designed solely to catch speeders but as a deterrent as well. There (Continued on Page 8)

NEAR TOTAL LOSS IN NAVAL WRECK

$8,000,000 Value of Six U. S. Destroyers Which Are Totally Lost

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13.—Of the seven destroyers wrecked on the rocks off Point Arguello, Santa Barbara channel, last Saturday night, only one of them—the Chauncey—can be completely salvaged, according to an opinion given today by Capt. Daniel C. Nutting, superintendent of construction for the United States navy at the Bethlehem Steel works here.

The navy faces a clear loss of $8,000,000 as the result of the disaster, Captain Nutting said. The naval officer returned to San Francisco yesterday from a survey of the wrecked destroyers.

Eighteen men are still missing as a result of the disaster which is the greatest peace-time setback the United States has had in its history.

An investigation was started by the United States Hydrographic Survey yesterday to determine if the great Japanese earthquake was in any way responsible for the wrecking of the seven destroyers.

GENEVA, Sept. 13.—Negotiations between Jugo-Slavia and Italy to avert war over the Fiume dispute are progressing favorably in Geneva, it was revealed by M. Ninchitch, the Jugo-Slav foreign minister, in an exclusive interview with International News Service today.

The Jugo-Slav official denied that the League of Nations would be requested to intervene to save the peace of the Balkans.

Outlook Bright

"We are negotiating here in Geneva directly with the Italians," said M. Ninchitch. "The outlook for success is most promising."

M. Ninchitch held a long conference with Count Bethlen, the Hungarian premier, smoothing out many of the differences between Jugo-Slavia and Hungary. The Jugo-Slav foreign minister is active in behalf of the little entente. In fact a little entente bloc is vigorously campaigning to elect Dr. Benes, of Czechoslovakia, a member of the league council.

The delegation from the union of associations for the League of Nations presented Chairman Ishii with a set of resolutions recommending that the league immediately advise Germany membership and intervene in the reparations dispute. The recommendations urged the following:

Four Points Sought

First—The league shall fix Germany's capacity for payment.

Second—Apply the principle of priority for devastated regions.

Third—Assure adequate international control of Germany's international finances.

Fourth—Sponsor an international loan.

JAP STATESMAN THANKS AMERICA

U. S. Aid to Stricken Nation Wins Appreciation of Nippon Officials

The following dispatch from Duke N. Parry, International News Service staff correspondent in Japan, is the first direct word from the stricken city of Tokyo to reach the United States. Up to now all messages from Tokyo have been relayed via Shanghai and other far eastern ports.

By DUKE N. PARRY

TOKIO, Sept. 13.—Vice Minister Tanaka Gaimusho called on American Ambassador Cyrus E. Woods today officially to thank the United States for the leading part that nation has taken in rushing help to the stricken area of Japan.

An official investigation is being made of Yokohama harbor to determine whether the upheaval of the port bottom will seriously interfere with the future activity and usefulness of the once great Japanese seaport.

American Girl Killed

The youngest daughter of American Trade Commissioner E. G. Babbitt was trapped in the lobby of the Grand hotel here at the time of the great earthquake and perished in the flames that subsequently mantled the building.

Mrs. Babbitt, who was undergoing a massage treatment when the terrible shock struck, had a miraculous escape when she was led by another daughter through flying wreckage and falling debris to a place of safety in the open street.

American Commercial Attache Abbott's family escaped harm. First reports had it that it was Abbott's daughter who was burned to death in the ruins of the Grand hotel, but it now is established beyond a doubt that the unfortunate girl was the youngest daughter of Trade Commissioner Babbitt.

Food is plentiful throughout the earthquake and fire regions. So far no serious outbreak of pestilence has taken place.

Glendale Getting Well Advertised at 2 Big Conventions

CAPTAIN D. RIPLEY JACKSON, now en route to Springfield, Mass., where he and W. C. Waring will attend the convention of Exchange clubs, will find, on his arrival, an entire sack of mail waiting for him.

The sack contains one hundred copies of The Glendale Evening News, several packages of assorted Chamber of Commerce literature, as well as more Glendale data to furnish ammunition for the Jackson-Waring campaign to tell the effete easterners about "The Fastest Growing City in America."

Another Glendale booster who is sowing the good seed back east is William S. Gamble, a member of the Glendale postoffice staff, who is attending the carriers' convention at Providence, R. I., as delegate-at-large from California.

Quorum Lacking for Tonight's Council Meet

The City Council will have no business session tonight. City Manager W. H. Reeves made this announcement this morning calling attention to the fact that Glendale's official family is scattered over an area a number of times the size of New Jersey.

Mayor Spencer Robinson is now accompanying the junket of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on its trip to Mexico City. Councilman W. A. Horn is on a business trip to his former home in Oakland.

The Pacific League of Municipalities' annual convention this week at Coronado is being attended by Councilman Sam Davis, City Clerk A. J. Van Wie, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow and City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy.

Between official conferences with the city hall cat, Mr. Reeves is trying to decide how the municipal charter, which provides that a meeting must be held tonight, can be circumvented. It probably will be necessary for Councilmen C. E. Kimlin and Asa Hall to meet and adjourn for lack of a quorum.

At the same hour as the two members at home say "adjourned" it is expected Mayor Robinson will be singing a duet.

PRIMARY SCHOOL SESSIONS SPLIT

Schedules for Tiny Tots Are Announced by City Superintendent

Half-day sessions, which will be essential in some of the primary grades, will not be continued a day longer than necessary, according to a statement this morning by Richardson D. White, superintendent of the Glendale city school system.

The length of time which half day sessions will be necessary will depend upon the speed with which the new additions to the school buildings are completed. The Board of Education has been assured by the architects that all work will be finished within a month. Mr. White believes that the duration of the divided sessions will vary between two and six weeks.

State school law provides that primary pupils shall not be kept in school for more than an hour without an intermission. The schedules, therefore, have been arranged as follows:

TROOPS JOIN MOVEMENT TO OUST CABINET

King Alfonso Hastening to Madrid as Flakes of Rebellion Spread

MADRID, Sept. 13.—Beginning with a garrison mutiny at Barcelona, a revolutionary revolt is sweeping Spain today. The cabinet defied the leaders. A special note was issued by the ministers dealing with the situation and asking the people to remain calm.

The revolutionaries demanded the cabinet's resignation. "Only bayonets will drive us out," was the reply.

The note added: "After careful consideration we have decided to remain at our posts. Otherwise we will not be faithful to the nation."

The revolutionaries were reported to have seized telephone and telegraph lines over a wide area of territory. Interrupted communication made it difficult to estimate the size of the movement.

More Garrisons Join

It is understood the Seville and Saragossa garrisons have joined the revolutionary leaders.

A censorship has been established. It is believed martial law will be proclaimed.

The garrison here is remaining loyal.

Ministers Scored

The rebels issued a proclamation warning the people against the foreign minister and against the president of the council. They warned they might create their own government.

The telephone communication with San Sebastian, the summer capital, is cut.

General Riviera sent a message to the king to "save the nation" by dismissing the cabinet.

King Alfonso was invited to preside at a cabinet meeting. It was pointed out that Barcelona has been long a hotbed of communism opposing liberal government.

Alfonso Strives to Stem Revolt's Tide

LONDON, Sept. 13.—A military revolution has broken out in Spain, according to word from Madrid this afternoon. It is spreading rapidly, according to advices received here this evening.

King Alfonso is rushing to Madrid to intervene.

It is reported the Spanish cabinet will resign.

The trouble started at Barcelona. In Catalonia, where the garrison rebelled, General Rivera, the commandant and Captain-General of Barcelona, declared martial law.

The commander of troops in the Catalonia military districts is said to be directing the revolutionary movement.

Numerous labor leaders were arrested for threatening a general strike.

A proclamation was issued pledging loyalty of the troops to (Continued on page 8)

Philadelphia Messenger Boy Slugged as He Enters Jewelry Store

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—A box containing $50,000 worth of diamonds was stolen from a 16 year old messenger boy at 8:30 today by two bandits who attacked him in the hall of the Travlers jewelry repair store at 933 Arch street.

The gems were being brought from a vault in the New York Loan society here, where they were kept overnight. Gus Prodel, the messenger, offered resistance when the bandits attempted to seize the box containing the jewels. He was knocked down and the box torn from his grasp before the clerks in the store who heard the commotion rushed to his aid.

The bandits rushed into the street and jumped into a waiting automobile and escaped.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Hour Of Singing

Tuesday Afternoon Club women who are musically inclined are to enjoy an hour of community singing the second and fourth Tuesday afternoons of each month during the next year, under the direction of Gage Christopher, able leader of Los Angeles.

These hours of song before the club meetings proved valuable features of club life last year, and it was with regret that the club women said farewell to Hugh Kirchhofer at the close of the year.

Mr. Kirchhofer, who resides in Hollywood, is widely known throughout the United States for his first and talented leadership, and the Tuesday Afternoon Club feels fortunate that he was associated with the organization last year.

Mr. Christopher is also most capable and comes with the highest recommendations.

There will be no singing hours on the first and third Tuesdays, for preceding the club meetings on these days, the club women will have luncheon and speakers.

District Council

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs, announces that the first presidents' council will be held Monday morning, September 24, at 10 o'clock at the Ebell club auditorium in Los Angeles.

The council will open with the singing of "America the Beautiful" and before luncheon there will be brief addresses by Mrs. John C. Urquhart, state president and Mrs. Toll.

In the afternoon the program will include reports on and outlines of all phases of club activity and administration.

Presidents of clubs may take three of their officers and all are urged to bring note books and pencils and any questions they wish to ask.

There will be discussion on the three subjects, "How to Budget Your Club," "How the District Is Trying to Help You to Build Good Programs at the Least Expense" and "Why We Need the Interest of the Younger Women and How We May Enlist It."

Tenth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mercer of 624 East Broadway were pleasantly surprised Tuesday night when a group of thirty-five relatives and friends arrived at their home to celebrate the tenth anniversary of their wedding.

During the evening music and games were enjoyed and a most wedding took place and readings were given by Beth Morrish and Vera Mercer.

Among the gifts received by the Mercers was a large cake, bearing the dates 1913-1923.

A list of town guests were all relatives, Mrs. C. L. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jewell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cook of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. John Mercer and son Richard, Mrs. Winifred Taylor, Mr. Brewster, Mrs. W. J. Morrish and daughters Beth and Helen, of Glendale.

Organize Chapter

The organization of another chapter of War Mothers for this district of Los Angeles county was suggested yesterday afternoon at the meeting of Glendale War Mothers with Mrs. Annie Parks of 350 West Lomita avenue.

Reports on the chapter work were given and it was announced that the next meeting, in two weeks, will be with Mrs. Stephenson of 330 West Broadway.

Eighth Birthday

Edward Turner, Jr., was 8 years old yesterday, and, in celebration of the anniversary, his mother gave a birthday party last night.

Those helping Edward to celebrate were Doris Turner of Hollywood, Shirley and Wallace Bennett, Marion Shriver, Billy Clark, Lucille Clark, Frank Rhode, Jr., Ellen Crane and Earl Early.

Teachers Honored

The home of Miss M. Spier of 615 South Verdugo road was the scene of a pleasant affair Monday afternoon, when she and a number of her associates in the Glendale high school faculty, entertained all of the women teachers of the school in honor of those who have been added to the faculty this year. Miss Spier was assisted by Mrs. Helen Moir and Miss Mary Hargrove, Helen Hargrove and Mary Creath.

Mrs. Andrews, district deputy, will be the special guest at the meeting of the Royal Neighbors, on Friday evening, September 14. All Modern Woodmen and their families are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

During the evening a pleasing program will be presented and refreshments served. It is the plan of the organization to entertain with a social meeting once a month.

Meet In October

High school patrons will be interested in the announcement made by Mrs. C. H. Whitney that activities of the High School Parent-Teachers' Association will not be resumed until Wednesday, October 17. Mrs. Whitney, who is president for the coming year, is completing plans for work and is hoping for a record membership.

Surprise Affair

A surprise party last night at the Daniel A. Hall home at 126 Franklin court, celebrated the birthday of Mr. Hall. Mrs. Hall had arranged the affair and when Mr. Hall arrived home at 8:30 o'clock he found a company of friends there to greet him.

Pink and white were the colors combined by Mrs. Hall in the decorations, dahlias being the flowers used. The large birthday cake was pink and white with candles. Dancing and cards were enjoyed and a birthday lunch was served at a late hour.

Mrs. Hall invited Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, Mrs. La Braun, Mrs. Lucille Rose and daughter, Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pease, Mr. and Mrs. William Keiser and Miss Venona Keiser, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rich, Mr. and Mrs. John Strother, Mr. and Mrs. E. Mrs. Hagood makes a specialty of teaching older boys and girls how to play popular music and novelty piano solos with unusual rhythm. It is her theory that popular music is very interesting if played properly.

Home From South

Mrs. R. W. Meeker and daughter, Miss Mildred Meeker, of 1320 East Colorado street, returned Tuesday from Colorado, where they have been spending the summer. Mr. Meeker motored down for the week-end, returning with his family. They report a very delightful summer. An interesting experience of Mrs. Meeker and Miss Mildred was a flight in an airplane.

Miss Meeker, who graduated from the Glendale Union High school, in June, will enter the Westlake school in Los Angeles. Warren Meeker, who will be a student at Stanford university next year, will leave the last of the week for the north.

Tells Condition for Initiative Petitions

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13.—Announcement is made by Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan that all initiative petitions based on rates or made for the last general election must be filed with his office by December 31.

Electors desiring to sign initiative petitions after the first of the year must register again if their signatures are to be valid, Jordan said.

To facilitate the task of securing the 7,263 signatures necessary to qualify an initiative measure for a place on the ballot, Jordan declared that the great majority of the backers of initiative movements will undoubtedly circulate their petitions while the old registration is still in effect.

BUBONIC PLAGUE KILLS

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 13.—Bubonic plague was reported today to have broken out at Melilla, Spanish base of military operations against the Riff tribesmen in Morocco. Several soldiers have succumbed.

Back From Visit to Old Home in Scotland

A journey overseas to her old home in Scotland was the vacation pleasure of Mrs. Fred G. Farner of 223 North Adams street, who, with her daughter, Miss Edna Farner, arrived home this week from a three months' visit with relatives and friends. It was Mrs. Farner's first visit in thirty years and Miss Farner's first visit abroad, so the stay was unusually enjoyable.

Leaving Glendale, Mrs. Farner and her daughter traveled by rail to Chicago and from there on to Canada, where they sailed from Montreal on the Canadian liner Marloeh.

While the major part of their vacation was spent in Glasgow with Mrs. Farner's sister and brother, Mrs. Farner and her daughter toured other parts of Scotland, England and Ireland.

Their return trip was on the White Star liner, Majestic. After arriving in the United States they visited in Missouri and Colorado before returning to Glendale.

Miss Farner is a teacher at the Broadway school.

Prizes Offered for Solution of Puzzle

The Glendale Evening News today carries a page of advertising from several local business houses, featuring a special offer of prizes for those who send in the answer to the Popular Song Prize Puzzle that is shown in the various advertisements.

The first prize is a lady's $10 silk sweater donated by the Fashion Center, 202 South Brand boulevard, and the second is a $5 electric iron given by the Good Housekeeping Shop, 140 South Brand boulevard, and three other prizes which will be added to the first two premiums.

Answers to the puzzle must be in the hands of the editor of The Glendale Evening News by Monday, September 17, by 12 noon.

Optometrist, Doctor, Open Offices Here

Dr. F. R. Gartley, optometrist, and C. M. Conkling, M. D., have opened offices in Rooms 10 and 11 Central building, where they will practice their respective professions.

The former has been practicing in Los Angeles but has lived in Glendale for several years, coming here from Pittsburg. Dr. Conkling came to Glendale recently from Palm Beach, Fla.

Their offices are equipped with the latest instruments connected with the practice of optometrical and medical progress.

TO HOLD PICNIC

Dr. M. R. Permelee, president of the Michigan Association of Southern California, is announcing the mammoth picnic for all Wolverines Saturday, September 15, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. He will offer all the picnic attractions and urges all the Michigan folks to turn out.

This will be held in addition to any local, or county or town picnic and the Michiganders are asked to fill the park.

Royal Neighbors

A royal good time is in store for the members and their friends of Glendale Camp No. 8938, Royal Neighbors of America, tomorrow night, for this camp has scheduled an old-time social to be held in the hall, located at the corner of Brand boulevard and Park avenue. Dancing and games will be the feature part of the evening, refreshments will be served, members of the Modern Woodmen of America of which society the Royal Neighbors is the sister auxiliary, are especially invited, and the friends of both societies are welcome.

This affair marks the forerunner of many similar events to be held during the coming fall and winter months, and it is the hope of the committee in charge that the same will be well attended, for upon the showing thus made depends, in part, the activities for the future.

Organized but a few years ago, Camp No. 8938 has made good strides, its officers are active in the field of fraternity and sisterly love, the society offers the best possible insurance at the lowest cost consistent with reliability, and the many other advantages accruing from membership are well worth having, it is stated.

Strangers interested are welcome to attend Friday night, the recorder, Mrs. J. E. Howes of 1122 East Elk street, as well as any other officers or members are at all times willing to meet interested parties, and all present on Friday night are assured a genuine good time.

COMMENT That's All

Do You Know Good Form? Department in Public Refrain From Crowding Modes of Introduction

By Gil A. Cowan

"GOOD Usage" is the title of the most interesting chapter in the handbook of Glendale Union High school issued students enrolling this semester. For the most part it is devoted to a description of courses, calendar programs, etc., but the six pages of advice to pupils, which other people may read and relish, are worthy of the deepest study and commendation.

So many young people do NOT know how to comport themselves. Indeed, parents are equally lacking in manners at times. It would seem, and like Topsy, the children might truthfully reply to Ophelia's question, "Where's your manners?" with the slang expression, "I ain't got none!"

Here is what "Good Usage" requires on the street or in public places, according to the handbook:

Under no circumstances does a gentleman take a lady's arm nor grasp her elbow unless it is necessary to aid her or protect her from danger. If a lady needs assistance in walking, a gentleman offers his arm.

A young man walking with a young woman is careful that his manner in no wise attracts attention to her.

If a gentleman meets a lady on the street and wishes to talk with her for more than a moment, he asks if he may walk a little way with her. During the moment that he does detain her, he stands with his hat in his hand.

A gentleman lifts his hat when greeted on the street by a lady, by a gentleman much older than himself, by a gentleman accompanied by a lady, or when he himself is walking with a lady and she is greeted by either lady or gentleman.

A gentleman removes his hat in an elevator when ladies are present.

No gentleman wears his hat in a private house or school building. Students should refrain from crowding into cars ahead of adults and from crowding at any time.

A gentleman never takes a seat while ladies are standing. If seated, an older man should not give up his seat to a girl unless there is an obvious reason for doing so; but a younger man ought always to offer his seat to a lady or elderly gentleman. If necessary to crowd past anyone, say "May I pass?" or "Please excuse me."

And some correct forms of introduction are given, as well as advice on shaking hands, invitations, etc., the most important being the greeting phrases, which are as follows:

Introductions should be simple, graceful and cordial. The correct introduction creates a friendly feeling between those introduced, and lays the foundation for conversation. A mere exchange of names is not enough.

One may say, "Miss Jones, may I present Mr. Wood?" Mr. Wood is a friend of my sister, and has heard her speak of you."

The gentleman is always presented to the lady, that is, the lady's name is mentioned first, even though he is very old and very distinguished and she a very young girl.

The unmarried lady is presented to the married lady unless the unmarried lady is much older; the younger man to the older man.

The term "May I present" is more formal than "May I introduce," and is used in a formal introduction.

"How do you do?" is the one phrase accepted by most authorities in acknowledgment of an introduction.

If you have reason for saying "I am glad to meet you" and are sure the person to whom you are being introduced is also glad to meet you, that greeting may well be used, but it should not be used promiscuously.

On taking leave of a stranger you have met and whose company you have enjoyed, you may say, "Good-by, I am very glad to have met you," or "I hope I may see you again some time."

St. Mark's Church to Build New Addition

St. Mark's Episcopal church on the northeast corner of Harvard and Louise streets is to have its seating capacity doubled.

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of the parish, stated this morning that plans will for the addition of two wings about sixteen feet wide and forty-six feet long on either side of the chapel. These will increase the seating capacity from 130 to 270 worshippers. The basement is to be extended under the south wing and excavations are under way already.

Following the contemplation of the additions to the church, its interior is to be redecorated and the grounds landscaped and beautified.

Morning services will be held in the church as usual Sunday but evening services have been discontinued until after the work is completed.

Contractor Charles G. Rodolph of 355 West Colorado street has the contract. John Trotter of 801 Orange Grove avenue is chairman of the vestry building committee.

DE MOLAYS REHEARSE

Paul O. Morgan, master counselor of Glendale De Molays, announced this morning that all future rehearsals for the comedy "Petticoat Lane" will be held at 7:30 o'clock every night at the Glendale high school.

TUJUNGA

FOGS FAILED TO BECLOUD ECLIPSE

Tujunga Chants Old Refrain 'We Told You So' to Rest of World

Tujunga and the rest of the Verdugo hills section lived up to its reputation of freedom from fog and presented perfect atmospheric conditions on Monday for viewing the eclipse of the sun. Justifying an invitation issued two weeks ago, via the press, to the wide world to come "above the fog" to view this phenomena. This invitation, stating that "the day of the eclipse is almost certain to be bright and clear in the hills, while it is quite likely to be hazy, foggy or overcast nearer the sea level," was not idle boasting or boosting for publicity purposes, but a prediction that was based on facts that are borne out by people who live in Tujunga and whose business takes them daily to Los Angeles or other vicinities on a lower level. Especially this summer have the commuters been impressed by the singular freedom from fogs that have been unusually prevalent in most parts of Southern California nearer the coast.

Tujunga's Climate

The drive up into the hills is marked by a quick clearing of the air as the higher levels are reached and the fog vanishes almost miraculously and the traveler emerges from a murky, damp atmosphere into bright sunshine.

Residents of the hills and the visitors who had the foresight to select the Verdugo as their point of observation had a wonderfully clear view of the eclipse, escaping the trying traffic conditions and disappointment that marked the southern exodus.

Poultry ranchers say their birds were completely deceived by the shadows and took to their perches.

Tells of Magazine

George Harris, philosopher and lecturer often heard over the radio, has issued a prospectus of a magazine he intends to publish in Tujunga. He calls it the Magazine of Common Sense and intends to build a clubhouse and organize a club under the same name. The clubhouse and the clubhouse has already been started on Michigan avenue, west of Hillhaven road.

In many respects the magazine resembles the one founded by the beloved Elbert Hubbard, who met an untimely death when the Lusitania went down. This was called the Philistine and through it Mr. Hubbard voiced his thoughts and conclusions in a unique and original manner.

Mr. Harris' style of expression also resembles that of Elbert Hubbard, inasmuch as he has the courage to say what he thinks regardless of what "they" think about it.

Raps Conventions

Some of George Harris' conclusions are rather startling and at odds with the accepted conventions, provoking some adverse

PUPILS SET NEW SCHOOL RECORD

Enrollment of 100 Creates High Mark for Monte Vista District

The term opened at the Sunland school with an enrollment of close to 100 pupils, a new high mark for the district. Playground apparatus has been installed by the trustees. Domestic science classes have also been added this year, and a close and harmonious co-operation already evinced between the teaching staff and Parent-Teacher association promises good results for the coming year.

The Parent-Teacher association is just entering its second year, but energetic and efficient executives are at the head of it, and some excellent results have already been attained.

Gage Will Preach
Rev. S. W. Gage of Garden Grove will deliver the sermons at both morning and evening services at the Sunland Baptist church next Sunday. W. E. Smith, pastor at Sunland, will exchange courtesies with him and preach at his Garden Grove church.

Rev. Smith spent two days in Los Angeles attending a performance of the Wayfarer while there. He pronounced it the greatest spectacle he ever witnessed.

criticism. But as he, himself, says, "the main thing is to get talked about."

Mr. Harris is one of the pioneers of Tujunga, or rather of Little Lands as it was called when he built what is now called Legion hall at El Centro and Sun-set boulevard. This building was built entirely of the virgin stone and is one of the buildings of stone of which he is proudest. He claims to have "learned and mastered" six trades since he passed the forty-five year mark, a noteworthy achievement in itself.

Absence of Witness Delays Daniels Trial

The trial of A. L. Daniels in connection with the death of Mrs. Patience Akers of Glendale, who was killed in an automobile accident, was delayed in the superior court in Los Angeles yesterday on account of the absence of one of the witnesses, for whom a bench warrant was issued.

The testimony of Attorney Harry W. Chase of Glendale, who was summoned as a witness, was ruled out because of his remoteness from the scene of the crash, the attorney for the accused contending that this prevented an accurate knowledge of the causes leading to the accident. The testimony of several other witnesses was also barred by the court for the same reason.

Walton is proprietor of a haberdashery at 148 South Brand boulevard.

LOCAL ELEVEN TO PLAY VAN NUYS

Practice Games for Pigskin Squads Lined Up by Coach Hayhurst

By NEAL E. SOOY
Written for The Evening News
Football at Glendale Union High school has started off in fine shape, according to Coach Normal C. Hayhurst, who expressed himself as very much pleased with the prospects. Practice games have been arranged for with Van Nuys for a week from Friday, the heavyweight team going there and the lightweights playing at home.

Practically all of the material for the varsity is experienced, and this is proving helpful in allowing the coaches to skip the preliminary details. The main work at present is dodging, interference breaking, line formations, passing, and mauling the dummy.

The one vacant position seems to be that of center, no one attempting it so far, although Mr. Hayhurst is breaking in three men in hopes of finding a suitable player.

Ronald West, captain, Howard and Darrell Elliott, Richard Ryan, Leslie LaValle, Masaru Horii and Cyril Walton are showing up especially well, while Dotson, Crow, Brucker, Gingery, Fish, Morrison, Blanche, Dietrich, Fitch, Murphy, Hibbs, Carver and Denny are also proving themselves valuable in the field.

Although the Class B, or lightweight team does not look as promising as it has the past two years, Coach Howard Butterfield is confident that he can develop a fighting eleven. With only three letter men back this year, his task will be difficult, but he has the reputation of producing winning teams and his material, although grass green, is shaping up well, he thinks.

Dante LaFranchi, Elmer Muff, James Monroe and Lyle McAllister are the four members of last year's championship midgeets and will be the mainstays of the eleven this time. The other candidates for positions are Thompson, Krug, Worley, Hatch, Eckles, Alvord, Eastman and several others. These are all showing their ability and are full of fight, if not of experience.

PUBLIC OPINION FAVORS DEMPSEY

Willard Says Awkwardness of Luis Firpo May Puzzle Clever Champion

Copyright, 1923
By International News Service
Public opinion leans heavily towards Jack Dempsey as the probable winner of tomorrow night's championship battle between Dempsey and Luis Firpo, South American challenger. International News Service has obtained the following synopsis of opinion from well known persons:

GEORGE BLAKE, nationally known referee and chief boxing instructor of the United States army during the world war—Dempsey in eight rounds. Firpo is too green.

WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR., owner of the Chicago Cubs and Los Angeles Angels—My belief is that when they get all through fighting, Dempsey will still be the champion.

Speaks From Experience
JESS WILLARD, who fought both Dempsey and Firpo—it's a toss-up. Dempsey can hit; so can Firpo. Dempsey is clever. Firpo is awkward. But Firpo's awkwardness is puzzling. Firpo is dangerous. It's hard to pick the winner.

JACK DOYLE, promoter—Dempsey in a hurry.
MARTIN H. GLYNN, former governor of New York—I believe Dempsey will win and win quickly. Dempsey has science and punch. Firpo only punch. Science and punch ought to beat punch.

T. L. JONES, former manager of Ad Wolgast, Billy Papke and Jess Willard—Dempsey will win, but Firpo has a chance.
LEW SHANK, famous "potato" mayor of Indianapolis—By gosh, if Dempsey doesn't win in three or four rounds, Firpo will knock him out. Firpo is the most wonderful hitter I ever saw.

EVACUATION DATE

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The council of ambassadors today fixed the date for evacuation of Corfu by Italian forces. From Italian sources, International News Service learns that the evacuation will not take place before October 1.

Standard Oil Folk Have Dinner Party

The paramount record made by the Glendale Branch of the Standard Oil organization in the Los Angeles district for the month of August, resulted in a fine dinner and entertainment last night at the Egyptian Village on North Brand boulevard.

The affair was arranged by the Los Angeles management and in addition to honoring the fifty or more employees of the Glendale branch, all the high point salesmen in the Los Angeles field were invited. Professional entertainment was given by artists from Los Angeles.

J. C. Smith is manager of the Glendale branch at 645 West Colorado street, overseeing eleven local service stations. Burrowing owls have their nest several feet under the ground, usually in the deserted homes of prairie dogs or ground squirrels.

Builders' Exchange Meets Friday Night

A regular meeting of the Builders' exchange of Glendale will be held Friday night at the exchange quarters, 113 North Maryland avenue. As this is the first meeting in over a month, due to previous meetings having been dispensed with, one in respect to the memory of President Harding, another on account of the activities incident to the three-day celebration of the local Elks lodge, it is expected that the attendance will be large.

Considerable routine business is to be transacted, a number of applications for membership are to be considered, and a program for the fall and winter activities of the association discussed.

The exchange is rapidly coming to the fore, its membership comprising, as it does, the better class of men engaged in some phase of the building industry, and the exchange quarters are daily the meeting place of many who are interested in building problems, and seek information connected therewith, it is announced.

Some 30 architects are co-operating with the exchange, plans on file indicate a healthy building condition for Glendale, and such plans are welcome. Bids from reliable bidders being furnished free to all without any obligation. Interested parties are welcome at this meeting, which will commence at 8 o'clock.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

Tom Mix, hero of scores of western photoplays, is appearing at the Glendale Theatre today and tomorrow in the greatest western of them all—"The Lone Star Ranger," adapted from the immensely popular Zane Grey novel and directed by Lambert Hillyer, who made so many of William Hart's famous two-gun tales.

Much credit in the particular instance at hand must go to "Tom." Tom's favorite horse, hero of many an escapade, as talented an equestrian star as ever acted before the cinematographer. "Circus Pals," a Sunshine comedy, is also on the Fox list of good things to be seen at the Glendale Theatre today. All who have seen any of this bright, spontaneous series of funny-funnies know how good they are.

P. S.—"The Lone Star Ranger" is Tom Mix's first release of the 1924 season, showing here in Glendale at the same time it is having its Los Angeles premiere.

THE GATEWAY

"Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," featuring Gloria Swanson, a thrill-laden tale of French bouillottes and beaches, of an American of many millions and almost as many "better halves," shows at the Gateway Theatre for three days, starting today.

This twentieth century Bluebeard had the world cheated when it came to collecting spouses. Mrs. No. 1 was a fugitive daughter of Russia, No. 2 a tempestuous beauty of Spain, No. 3 a chic French cutie, No. 4 a devil-may-care Irish queen, No. 5 an arrogant English damsel, No. 6 a typical American squab, No. 7 was a flashing Italian heart-breaker, and No. 8 was—oh, boy, she was the class! She (Gloria Swanson playing the part) had them all rolled into one infinitely desirable, dangerous, delectable Darling, with a capital D! "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife" will give you a new thrill. If it doesn't, you're past thrilling.

Evening News Will Be First With Fight Results Friday, Announcers to Give Bulletins

FULL leased wire bulletin service of the Dempsey-Firpo world's heavyweight championship fight in New York will be given by announcers in front of The Glendale Evening News office Friday afternoon, beginning shortly after 4 o'clock.

The International News Service leased wire will be kept open in the office of The Evening News and as fast as the transcontinental telegraph can carry the message the people of Glendale will be given the news first.

By 4 o'clock it is expected the preliminaries will be running while by 5:30 Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, and Leo Gates will be in the midst of their 12 round battle.

Dempsey, the champion, and Firpo, the challenger, are scheduled to enter the ring at 10 o'clock sharp, eastern daylight saving time, which is 6 p. m. in Glendale. Their fight probably will be but a matter of minutes.

From the street in front of The Glendale Evening News office you will be able to get the fight results first and be home for dinner.

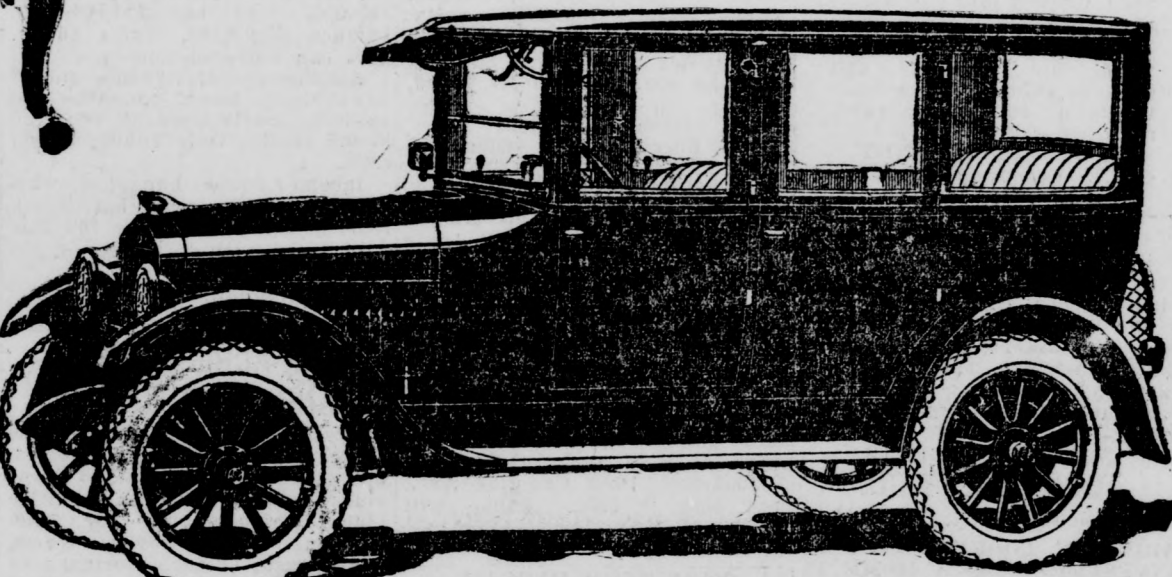

The Glendale Evening News leased wire will have a direct "hook up" with the Polo Grounds in New York. It will not be a part of a "pony" circuit out of Los Angeles.

It will be the same service as received by the Los Angeles Evening Herald, Los Angeles Examiner and other metropolitan dailies.

Naturally, it will be first, with Damon Runyon, Davis J. Walsh, Max Kase, "Tad" Arthur Strowe and other experts at the ringside. Announcers using megaphones and a corps of telephone operators will give out the news at The Glendale Evening News office.

Glendale fight fans will be at The Evening News office, 139 South Brand boulevard, Friday at 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. to get the latest first.

Why?

The New Light-Six Sedan $1795

Tens of thousands of satisfied Studebaker owners can tell you the "Whys" for the increase of one hundred and fifty per cent in Studebaker Light-Six closed car sales this year over last—and 1922 was a record breaking year.

Because they are:

superfine, medium-sized, medium-priced enclosed cars built complete in Studebaker plants with but a single overhead cost—economical to operate and maintain, due to their advanced design and construction and the use of the highest quality of materials throughout—exceptionally comfortable and very easy to handle in traffic with a most flexible motor and brakes of powerful, positive action—full of genuine value that has earned for them a record of sturdy dependability under severely hard usage—

DRIVING IS BELIEVING

Now is an excellent time to exchange your open car for a closed one. Closed car demand indicates a difficulty of making quick delivery this winter and at that time your open car may not bring you as good a price.

EXPLAIN MERITS OF CLOSED CARS

Studebaker Agents Prepare
To Handle Fall Rush
In New Lines

The closed car season that is now in full swing, as cooler weather draws near, has afforded the Packer Auto company in Glendale at 245 South Brand boulevard, San Fernando valley distributors of the Studebaker cars, an opportunity to point out to their clients and to the numerous prospects for automobiles in their territory the advantages of this class of car and especially of the Studebaker.

In addition to the acknowledged comfort of a closed car during the cool fall evenings and nights, the points of the Studebaker are emphasized in the firm's advertisement today.

Back of every advantage possessed by these cars is the Studebaker reputation of over seventy years for honesty and progress in the manufacture of their particular product, and to this is added the ease of handling the car under all conditions, the powerful motor that responds to the slightest whim of the driver, the brakes that insure the safety of the passengers, the up-to-the-minute refinements in engineering and body building that are characteristic of the Studebaker output.

The fact that Studebaker cars are manufactured in the firm's own plants, it is claimed by Don Packer, a member of the Packer Auto Co., insures the highest quality of automobile at a price that is only possible where production is on a vast scale, while the records that have been established by Studebaker cars under the most trying circumstances are said to back up every claim that the manufacturers and the agents make for them.

The new closed models are being displayed in the Packer showrooms now and deliveries, it is stated, can be made promptly.

Three carloads of the new Studebakers were delivered to the Packer Auto company this week, which included a variety of all models, two of them being special paint jobs that have been attracting a great deal of attention.

Scouts are to start work immediately on building a giant Indian council ring. The sacred fire pit is to have a diameter of ten feet and the outer Council ring will be 100 feet through.

Mr. Wescott was the director of scout activities at this year's Boy Scout Summer Camp near Lake Arrowhead. Edward Alling, graduate of the University of California and assistant Camp Director of the Catalina Boy Scout Camp two years ago will also be a hand to welcome the older Scouts especially.

Stunts from all the troops in the district of both a serious and humorous turn will be a popular addition to the campfire program it is predicted.

Plant Chief Resigns
To Take Federal Job

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13.—Lee A. Strong, chief of the division of plant and pest control of the state department of agriculture has tendered his resignation to Director G. H. Hecke, effective December 31.

Strong, who has been with the California agricultural board since its creation, has accepted an appointment from C. L. Marshall, chairman of the federal horticultural board, to supervise enforcement of quarantine orders for the federal government. He will assume his federal post with the beginning of the new year, making his headquarters in Washington, D. C.

HALT IMMIGRANT
SMUGGLING, PLAN

Ohio Solon to Sponsor Law
To Prevent Entry of European Aliens

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—That smuggling of immigrants into the United States from Canada is an industry of growing proportions, and that it can and should be prevented by extensions of the immigration service are beliefs held by Representative John L. Cable, Republican, of Ohio.

Mr. Cable proposes to introduce a bill increasing the number of immigration inspectors, not only for Ellis island, but for duty along the Canadian border. Their duties will include not only the prevention of smuggling or "bootlegging" of immigrants, but will be a further check upon the entrance of the undesirable alien.

Conferring with President Coolidge about the immigration service, Mr. Cable expressed the opinion that a large majority of members of Congress would oppose the department of labor's plan for selection of immigrants to America in their home lands, on the ground that such a procedure would involve the making of treaties with countries affected, which countries themselves were not in favor of the proposed selection.

In spite of this opinion, friends of the idea in Congress are pressing confidently forward in the belief that the very opposition of foreign countries to selection of immigrants before, and not after, embarkation is a reason for insisting upon it, and with the idea that no treaty is necessary, and that the refusal of an American visa to all that is required to enforce American selection ideas upon those whom inspectors abroad consider undesirable.

Pasadena Defies Law
Pasadena, according to City Manager W. H. Reeves, has decided to continue to use speed traps wherever necessary to protect the lives of its citizens. Although he refused to commit the local administration to a definite policy, he admitted that Glendale may do likewise.

About one-fifth as many speeders as usual will appear before the bar tomorrow morning in the municipal court. Although heavier fines may be assessed Judge Lowe stated that he is not interested in the financial aspect of the situation.

"Violations are increasing," he admitted, "but arrests for violations are diminishing."

Borah-George Debate
Plan Is Called Off

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Tentative plans for a series of joint debates between David Lloyd George, war-time premier of Great Britain, and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, upon occasion of the ex-premier's forthcoming visit to America, have been abandoned, it was learned here.

Borah was approached some time ago on the project and readily gave his assent. It is understood Lloyd George was not agreeable.

The former premier is expected to land in the United States early in October for his tour.

A tentative program calls for visits and speeches in Minneapolis, Chicago, Springfield, Ill., St. Louis, Louisville, Frankfurt, Indianapolis, Cleveland, Washington, Richmond, Philadelphia, Scranton, Boston and New York. Other additional dates are to be fixed later.

Will Urge Legislation
On City Power Lines

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 13.—The California League of Municipalities convention in session at Coronado, is expected to recommend state legislation that would enable cities to issue bonds for building their own distributing lines to carry power from the proposed Boulder canyon dam. Such action would be considered the first shot by municipal ownership proponents against the power companies in the fight for control of Boulder dam light and power distribution.

Mayor C. S. Evans of Riverside, chairman of the resolutions committee, was expected to report on a resolution recommending the cities enabling legislation late yesterday.

Prince of Wales to Visit Canadian Ranch

QUEBEC, Canada, Sept. 13.—Traveling incognito as "Lord Renfrew" the Prince of Wales arrived here yesterday to visit his Canadian ranch. No salutes were fired as the liner Empress of France swung into her dock and the only mark of official attention was a seaplane which hovered over the ship as she steamed into her berth. The pier was strongly guarded by police. The prince declined any official recognition.

Debate in Morocco

Blamed for Revolt

BARCELONA, Sept. 13.—General Llorens was appointed governor of Barcelona today by the captain-general of Catalonia.

The police and civil guards have accepted the new revolutionary regime peacefully. A provisional government has been established. The strictest censorship is in effect. Martial law is being enforced by revolutionary troops. The overthrow is said to be due primarily to the Spanish defeat in Morocco and the decision of the cabinet not to conduct a new offensive against the Moroccan rebels.

The air is filled with rumors. One is that the foreign minister is fleeing toward France.

The Bilbao garrison is reported to have joined the revolution. The Madrid government has ordered a naval squadron to Barcelona.

The provisional government has drawn up a list of charges against the premier and foreign minister. Court-martial proceedings are threatened against both.

This city is quiet.

EXCHANGE CLUB SENDS JAPS $100

Plan for Community Chest Is Indorsed by Members
Following Report

The Glendale Exchange Club, which met yesterday noon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for its weekly luncheon, discussed several matters of civic interest. Vice-President George A. Whitaker of 400 East Broadway presided in the absence of President D. Ripley Jackson, who is now en route to Springfield, Mass., as a delegate to the annual convention of the National Exchange Club.

One hundred dollars was pledged towards Glendale's quota of $3,500 for the Japanese relief fund being raised by the Red Cross. This consists of an appropriation of $25 from the club treasury and a number of individual donations. Dr. Henry R. Harrower of 1510 East Broadway, who brought up the subject, agreed to make up the difference between the sum raised and the amount promised.

Fine Investment
The value of speedy relief in the time of need as a means of cementing the bond of friendship between the United States and Japan was emphasized by S. E. Bell of 127 North Brand boulevard, who expressed his opinion that the money which is being raised in the United States for Japanese relief is an excellent investment.

R. E. Johnston of 440 South San Fernando road started the "ball rolling" by making the first individual subscription. His example was followed by a number of other club members. The plan to establish a community chest in Glendale was endorsed by the club. Dr. Warren Z. Newton of 121 North Brand boulevard made the request for this endorsement. He asserted that the San Francisco Exchange Club, of which he was a member before coming to Southern California (Continued on page 4)

Realty Board Will Start Drive for New Members Among Glendale Brokers

By RALPH A. LYND
Of The Evening News Staff

A DRIVE for new members for the Glendale Realty Board is to be launched within a few days and every effort will be made to bring into the organization every reputable real estate firm or broker in Glendale.

This decision was reached at the weekly meeting of the board in Jensen's Egyptian Village yesterday, following a discussion in which a list of many of the local dealers was read and passed upon by the members. One of the first conditions imposed on the membership committee, whose report was submitted by W. L. Truitt, was that only those brokers who maintain regular offices be considered as available timber for admission to the board, while the names of those dealers who operate from private residences, as well as a number of others who were regarded as ineligible, were ruthlessly eliminated from the list.

Multiple Listing

The discussion of the plans for the membership drive became mixed with the plans for the adoption of several amendments that it is proposed to make in the rules for conducting the multiple listing system when Peter Hanson, chairman of the multiple listing committee, presented a report embodying the recommendations of the committee, one of which was that the members of the board adopt the multiple listing system entirely after January 1, 1924. This was strongly opposed by several of the members as imposing an obligation on the new members who might join during the drive, which they would be unwilling to accept, and the drive in consequence might easily turn out to be a failure.

The report of the multiple listing committee was finally tabled until after the drive shall have been concluded, when both old and new members will be given an opportunity to express their (Continued on page 4)

So Long Straws! This Is Thursday, Also Thirteenth!

THE dictates of fashion, beside which the laws of the Medes and Persians are mere expressions of opinion, have decreed that today, Thursday, September 13, in this particular year of grace, is to see the close of the straw hat season.

Apparently the haberdashers and the hat manufacturers have been able to enlist the active support of the weather man who rules in this section of the state, for the past two days have been anything but straw hat weather.

Those persons who would rather be in style than be president of the United States will, tonight, lead the old straw hats out to the incinerator in the back yard and solemnly consign them to the purifying flames.

Those who haven't got an incinerator will turn the old hats over to the kids, and thus make their destruction even more assured. And tomorrow they will blossom out like fashion-plates in the new felt styles.

DR. HARROWER IN 'COURTESY' TALK

Tells Hollywood Exchange
Club What Term Means
Here and Elsewhere

"Courtesy" was the subject of an after-dinner speech Tuesday night in the Hollywood Women's Club by Dr. Henry R. Harrower of 1510 East Broadway, who represented the Glendale Exchange Club at a ceremonial of the Hollywood Exchange Club.

"I have just spent ten months abroad," he remarked. "One thing that I noticed particularly on my return is how much more polite people are in Europe than in America.

"In Denmark the street car conductors tip their hats to you when you get on their cars. In France, when you meet an acquaintance on the street, he bows to you instead of hollering 'Hello, Old Scout!'

"Motoring in England is quite a different thing—from a courtesy standpoint as well as from other standpoints—from motoring over here. The Auto Club of Southern California is attempting to cultivate courtesy among motorists. It is needed!

Cause for Swearing
"This reminds me of a story of a judge who said:
"You tell me that this is the driver who hit you. Could you swear to the man?
"I did," returned the complainant, "but he did not stop to hear me."
"It was the famous George Elliot who said: 'Politeness is like an air cushion: there may be nothing in it—but it eases the jolts wonderfully.' If we can add this writer's sentiments to the tenets of our Exchange faith and live up to it, it will be worth having banded together.

"The politeness that I am referring to is what Webster calls: 'Courtesy, good breeding, refinement, urbanity, affability, complaisance, civility.'"

"One father is reported to have said to his inquiring son: 'Politeness is the unwillingness to let other people know what we think of them.'"

NATION'S LEADER OF CLUBS WRITES

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter,
General Federation President, Coming to Coast

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, is happy over the receipt of a letter from Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Minneapolis, Minn., president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, bearing greetings upon the eve of the opening of the club year 1923-1924 and full of inspiration for every unit of club organization.

Mrs. Winter is anticipating visiting California in November, when she will meet Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California federation, and together they will visit the clubs in San Francisco, Berkeley, Fresno and Los Angeles. They will arrive in Los Angeles about November 13 and Mrs. Winter will address a general meeting of Los Angeles district club women November 14. During the remainder of her visit she will devote her time to the perfection of plans for the biennial in Los Angeles June 3 to 10.

Writes of World Peace
In her letter to Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Winter speaks of the possibility of world peace and encloses a prospectus of "The American Peace Award" created by Edward W. Bok, offering $100,000. This award will be given to the author of the best practicable plan by which the United States may cooperate with other nations to achieve and preserve the peace of the world.

Mrs. Winter heartily endorses Mr. Bok's project and Mrs. Campbell also favors the plan and is hoping that there will be entrants from Glendale.

Briefly outlined, the prospectus states:
The purpose of the award is to give the American people from coast to coast a direct opportunity to evolve a plan that will be acceptable to many groups of our citizens who strongly desire to see the United States do its share in preventing war.

Six Awards Offered
In addition to the main award of $100,000, there will be second, third, fourth and fifth awards of $5,000 each.

Plans may be submitted either by individuals or by organizations of every kind, national, state or local.

All manuscripts must be received at the office of the American Peace Award by 12 o'clock midnight on November 15, 1923. More details can be secured at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

START GLENDALE BOOM BACK EAST

Eight Families Coming Here
As Result of Realtors'
Missionary Work

When Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brown left on June 12 for a visit to their old home at Fergus Falls, Minn., it was not with the intention of starting a Glendale boom there—but that is what happened, nevertheless.

Mr. Brown states that he felt like a delegate from the Promised Land. Not only in Fergus Falls, but all along the line, where they visited, old friends and acquaintances came and laid their woes before him, asking if he would recommend that they sell out and come to Glendale.

While Mr. Brown refused to paint the roseate picture of this city that some good-hearted boosters do, he did not hesitate to tell the truth—with the result that eight families are already on their way here, as follows:

Eight Families Come
J. M. Brown, Mr. Brown's father, bringing with him a sister, from Caldwell, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown and their two children, Mr. Brown's brother and family, from Madilla, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Solberg, from Fergus Falls, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. John Hagenson and son, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kitts, from Mrs. Neil Barnard and Robert Kjemnes, also from Fergus Falls, or nearby.

In addition, Mr. Brown states that two other families from Fergus Falls preceded him back and are already in Glendale, awaiting his arrival: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. John Blesse.

"If these people shouldn't happen to like Glendale," says Mr. Brown with a smile, "I'll be a regular trouble bureau!"

All Sorts of Roads
The P. C. Browns and their three boys returned from Fergus Falls by way of southern Montana, leaving August 25, and arriving in Glendale September 12, an average of 216 miles a day with their Essex touring car, over roads that were good, not so good and still not so good. At Caldwell, Idaho, they visited (Continued on page 4)

Parent-Teacher Federation Holds First Meeting to Name Executive Committee

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff

COINCIDENT with the opening of schools is the resumption of Parent-Teacher Association activities, the first event of which took place yesterday at the Wilson Avenue Intermediate school, where Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Glendale Parent-Teachers' Association Federation, presided over a gathering of over twenty-five women.

Of primary importance was the election of an executive committee, which is chosen each year to facilitate the administration of the federation. Mrs. E. B. Moore and her secretary, Mrs. Emil Johnson, are ex-officio members of the committee, and the other three members elected yesterday were Mesdames W. A. Kulp, S. L. Gillen and A. H. Brown. This committee is empowered to transact business matters for the federation.

Plan Teachers' Reception
As is their usual custom, the members of the various organizations are anticipating the annual reception for the city teachers. This event was discussed yesterday and the date is to be definitely set and announced within the next two weeks. Mrs. J. A. Grant, courtesy chairman of the federation, will be general chairman, and she will be assisted by the courtesy chairmen of the various associations.

During the meeting special emphasis was placed on the value of educational publications and Mrs. Moore urged all the members of the associations to consider taking one or more such magazines. She also urged the purchase and wearing of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' association emblems.

Announcement was made of the opening meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Public Library.

Another announcement was that the Women's Parliamentary Law club, that has been meeting during the summer, is to meet October 5 for permanent organization, under the direction of Mrs. Opal Greenwalt. As yet the Federation has not decided upon a meeting place. Several offers have been made and the one most centrally located will undoubtedly be chosen, she represented.

LITTLE RED BOOK INTRIGUES PUPILS

No, Agnes, It Is Not Lenine's
Latest Novel, But High School Bulletin

What's in the little red books? is the question that has come to Glendalians' minds as they watch high school students this week hurrying to and from school, each grasping tightly one of the small bolshevik hued booklets.

The answer is that the "little red book outlines in detail the method of procedure at the 'little red school house'" and to Principal George U. Moyse, and Mrs. Ethel Hume Flood Moyse and A. L. Ferguson, vice principals, goes credit for its compilation.

The answer is that the "little red school house" received one of the little red books, in which he may find everything from the calendar for the year and class and student organization, to such good usage hints as "Good manners is the only key to social success, and men and women find that this key fits also the door to business success."

Glendalians Hearken To Lure of Circus

The age-old call of the circus lured a large number of Glendale people down to Los Angeles last night to see the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey aggregation of entertainers, both human and animal, perform.

The performance this year is said to be well up to the standard maintained by the Ringling shows and furnished plenty of thrills and excitement, as well as amusement for the army of circus lovers who attended.

LONG TRESSES VOGUE

Mrs. E. C. Pendroy's statement, several weeks ago, upon her return to Glendale from the East, that the bobbed locks are passing, is borne out in a fashion decree today received from New York announcing that bobbed hair is still all right for the boudoir, for sports and business and street. But for dinner and the dance, nothing but long hair will do.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. F. R.:—If you will reduce your forty pounds of excessive weight, I predict every symptom you have enumerated—dizziness, high blood pressure, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, pains in the chest, gas, headaches, shortness of breath, everything, etc.—will all disappear like the well-known dew before the sun.

You say you have a good appetite. That shows how fitendish Nature is. She takes away the appetite in some of our disorders, when we really ought to eat and need to eat; and in other disorders when eating is the worst thing we can do, she keeps it going to b. the b. Send for our instructions on reducing if you have not done so already.

T. L.:—The noises you hear in your intestines are simply due to the rumbling of gas. The technical name is borborygmus, which in itself is a nice noisy sound. There is no hazard there.

While the intestines can harbor animal growths in the forms of tape worms and round worms, the lizard is not adapted to live under such conditions, so dismiss him from your mind at once. If you have a tape worm you will be passing segments of the worm. They are little oblongs from one to one and one-half inches long and one-fourth to one-half inch wide, and are quite characteristic looking, totally unlike anything else that would be passed from the bowels. The pin worms are about one-fourth to one-half inch long and the longer type of round worms, usually known by the name of "Round" worms, are from two to three inches to twelve inches long. You cannot mistake them. If you have them you will see them in the stool or the eggs will be shown in a microscopic examination.

We have an article on worms you may have by sending for it according to the rules of the column, stated below.

E. W.:—If your tonsils are in such a state as to cause recurring inflammations, and local treatment and correction of the diet does not help them, they should be removed. Chronically inflamed tonsils are absolutely of no use to the system. In fact, they are worse than no use, for they furnish a storehouse for and supply poisons to the system. There are always a special disposition for them to settle on the heart valves. This is dangerous, of course.

The operation, performed by a skillful specialist, hasn't nearly the element of danger that the diseased tonsils have in themselves.

Mrs. Y.:—We cannot take room to publish the list of books on sex hygiene here, but I will be glad to send it to you, or to whomever may inquire. If the necessary self-addressed envelope is enclosed for my reply.

Mrs. H.:—You are overweight and you say your diet consists almost entirely of fruits and vegetables. This shows you that fruits and vegetables also have energy values—calories—doesn't it?

It is very difficult to have a diet satisfactory for all the needs of the system, no fruits and vegetables alone. One reason is because fruits and vegetables do not have the complete protein that are necessary for the best health. You should add some milk and cheese and wholewheat bread to your diet.

It has been the experience of thousands of our followers that when they reduced their fat they reduced all forms of pains and aches. If you missed our instructions on how to reduce, send for them (a self-addressed envelope, remember, stamped and enclosing four cents in stamps for this pamphlet). Then write us again later so we can know how much better you feel.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, and over the words "Dear Editor" or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith. We will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret that I am unable to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest, don't forget the a. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Almost every housekeeper makes a few changes in her home as September comes around. Although she may not be able to afford papering and painting, she can at least make some inexpensive improvements along the lines of interior decoration.

It is surprising what a difference even the simplest changes make in our homes. Unconsciously our eyes weary of the familiar hangings, or of a certain arrangement of furnishings. We welcome fresh surroundings.

Of course, I do not mean that our ornaments and furniture should be discarded for new; for our possessions become dear to us, a part of ourself. I simply mean that they should be differently arranged, from time to time, and given a new background.

I believe that the housekeeper should change the color-scheme of her living-room every five years. The other rooms of the house do not matter as much—unless we except the dining room; but the living room is the gathering-place of the family and is used more than any other room. It should never be allowed to become monotonous and uninviting.

"But how can I change it when

Timely Views on World Topics

"NEW GERMAN MINISTRY HOLDS FATE OF COUNTRY," SAYS KESSLER

"The new German ministry is a strong one. But, weak or strong, it is Germany's last." So declares Count Harry Kessler, German diplomat, who is attending sessions of the Institute of Politics at Williamstown, Mass. Discussing the inclusion of the Social Democrat leader, Dr. Rudolf Hilferding, in the new German cabinet, he said that the workers as well as the employers will be represented in the new government. For this reason he regards the new ministry as a strong one, but classes it as Germany's last.

"There can be no other government," he said. "That is impossible. If it fails, Germany will go down in red revolution."

"The situation of the Stresemann government today is similar to that of Max of Baden in his time. I think this government is Germany's last chance."

"The success or failure of the Stresemann government will depend entirely on the policy of France and England and America. If England, with some kind of help from America, can get France to be reasonable, the government has a chance to live."

Count Kessler said Stresemann had been the strong man behind the throne during the last ministry, and was the best parliamentarian in Germany. He had, comparatively young, being only forty-four, he had always been in favor of a German rapprochement with England. As a member of the conservative Populist party with Hugo Stinnes he would, in Count Kessler's opinion, be able to bring pressure to bear on the German industrialists.

Dr. Hilferding, according to Count Kessler, is Germany's foremost authority on financial matters, the author of Das Finanz Kapital, who, in the words of Count Kessler, "can bring order in the financial situation, if any one can." Dr. Hilferding, Count Kessler said, was a pacifist, and was very much in favor of an arrangement with France. Many French Socialists are among his friends.

ANTI-SALOON HEAD SAYS VOLSEISM HAS BROUGHT MANY BENEFITS

Supporting a statement by Chief Justice William Howard Taft relative to prohibition enforcement, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, recently enumerated benefits which he believes have resulted from the enactment of the dry law. Chief Justice Taft has urged that citizens cease protesting against its enactment.

The enlargement of the criminal classes by recruits led to join their ranks by the lax apologetic and conniving attitude of respectable people," to which Chief Justice Taft refers," said Wheeler, is the most serious problem we face today.

"One having learned that there are among the most prominent persons in the community a group who smile at lawbreaking when crime serves their appetite, the less cultured and less wealthy cannot see why they should keep prohibition from created this situation. It has merely revealed a lack of loyalty to law which already existed.

"In addition to the benefits cited by Chief Justice Taft one might add the lowered mortality rate, equivalent to the saving of 500,000 lives in the first three years; the 74 per cent reduction in the number of charity cases due to liquor; the 70 per cent cut in deaths from alcoholism; the decrease in offenses of minors and women; the diversion of the immense sums once spent for liquor to channels of legitimate business."

From Rum to Radio

"The taxes paid by moving picture houses, the sales of camping, athletic and outdoor goods; the trade in music, phonograph and radio supplies, tell this part of the story. Homes are being built at the rate of nearly 9000 new houses a month. Each month $11,000,000 is being invested in social and recreational buildings to replace the saloons as the poor man's club. The monthly average cost of new religious buildings is close to $9,000,000, while an average of nearly 3000 new members joined the church daily during 1922. These are just a few of the things prohibition has done besides reducing the lawlessness of the nation."

"FIELD OF PRODUCING FUEL HAS SCARCELY BEEN TOUCHED," SAYS ELECTRICAL GENIUS

"Electrical science is destined to wield a wonderful results to the world and to measure the shape of a flash of lightning which travels at the velocity of light—186,000 miles per second," says Giuseppe Faccioli, distinguished electrical engineer. "We can determine its pressure, manufacture clouds and create thunder and even rain. I believe tungsten struck by lightning, can be transformed into helium gas. Experiments in this direction are well worth while. Nature stores up energy for untold ages. Changes take place and we dig into the earth and get coal. Perhaps the long process can be shortened. Perhaps we can apply a tremendous force for a short period and bring about the change we seek. This, of course, is speculation. The field has scarcely been touched."

BEAUTY CHATS

THE BABY'S GOOD LOOKS

Most mothers are satisfied with their babies' beauty, which is fortunate, for it probably saves the babies a lot of bungling experiments. I can think of no profession so hampered and hide-bound by tradition and superstition and old wives' tales generally, as that of motherhood.

Most babies are beautiful, for their little features are so indefinite that they don't matter, their skins are always a delight, their feet and hands invariably lovely. And one doesn't expect hair. I'm thinking of moderately healthy babies now, of course. To improve their looks, or rather to preserve them as they mature, you have only to follow these very simple rules:

Don't soap baby's head every day; soap now and then but first with clear water daily, massage gently once a week with a little olive oil. This treatment gives a healthy scalp and glossy thick hair. Use only the finest baby soap for the daily bath. Strong, straight, beautiful teeth will come if the first teeth are cared for very carefully, and if, before they come, the mouth is cleaned twice a day with cheese cloth around the finger and an antiseptic lotion prescribed by the doctor (borax and glycerine is usually recommended).

Flat, shapely ears result if adjustable tape caps are worn in bed when baby is active enough to twist his head about. Eyes have a better chance if washed daily with weak boric acid solution. A shapely nose is more apt to grow, and my doctor tells me adenoids will never come if the nose is cleaned daily with a little twist of absorbent cotton. Adenoids actually change the shape of the face and are often the only reason to account for a child's being stupid.

The fine complexion will always last if care is taken of it, while an ugly mouth often comes from sucking at "comforters" or pacifiers.

Mrs. P. K.: Among the simple methods for removing a wart on the hands is to rub salt into the wart each night, or by application of turpentine. If these suggestions fail try trying a white silk thread around the base of the wart, so as to strangle it until it dries up and drops off. A wart on the face should be removed only by a skin specialist. Never tamper with such a blemish yourself.

School Girl: From your description of yourself, I should say that while your appearance may be distinctive, you cannot be classed with any particular type. The shape of the nose may be changed through surgery.

Subscriber: You can purchase walnuts at the big groceries, rather than at the drug stores. To make the stain use domestic walnuts, and to one pound of the nuts add enough water to cover them. Steep over a small flame until the liquid is a deep brown. The quantity should be about one pint. Add a handful of salt to set the color. Apply to hair with a toothbrush, taking care not to touch the skin.

Tomorrow—Treating the Hair.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a man of marrying age, six feet two inches tall, with brown eyes, dark hair and a very straight walk. My face is red and I am not considered very good looking. I have been going with a girl for about six months and we were brought up in the same nearby country town. There is just one fault I have to find with this girl and that is that she doesn't seem to have much to say. She has a very quiet disposition and she does not seem to associate with people much. When I introduced her to my friends she says, "How do you do," or "I am glad to meet you."

I love this girl with all my heart and think seriously of asking her to marry me. How would you advise me to pop the question? STRAIGHT-BACK BILL.

Men should not worry so about the proper way of proposing. It is a very simple matter. Close to certain boy. Usually when a young man feels he is pursued he takes a dislike to the girl who is so deeply interested in him. It is correct to wear a hat or to go without one when going to a theater at night.

A boy should go home at 10 o'clock when he is calling. It is not correct to go riding with a boy at night unless she is accompanied by an older person.

TODAY—It Pays—Sometimes—To Buck the Tide; The Willy Woman Buyer.

By FRANK L. SAVAGE
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Experienced operators on the Stock Exchange tell the amateur about to be inveigled into its intricacies never to "buck the market," but to "go with the tide."

The same formula may be applied to:

1. Getting into the subway.
2. Getting out of the subway.
3. Attending a Ku Klux Konclave.
4. Attending an Anti-Ku Klux Konclave.

There are, however, other varieties of human activity in this metropolitan realm to which this rule does not apply.

Among these latter are purchasing an automobile, renting an apartment or attending a play.

When you note that winter is nigh and contemplate the sanguine prospect of swapping the flivver with a four-man top for a comfortable, commodious closed car, pause to ponder the probability that two out of ten among the 6,000,000 other restive souls who live in this region, and have six spare bits jangling in their jeans, have the same bright idea.

There is a premium on every rattling showcase available, regardless of the type of tin-can it may surmount. The answer is:

Buy an OPEN car in the fall and a closed car in the spring.

Twice a year, on May 1 and on October 1, leases expire, and the grand rush is on for new living quarters.

Do you mind paying double for the use of a moving van?

Do you want to greet a prospective new landlord in whose mind is burgeoning the fond thought "now is the time to soak 'em for an increase"?

Do you want to "try and get" your telephone transferred when everyone else is trying to do the same thing?

Go ahead, then. You qualify as

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By Frances Trego Montgomery

Several buildings of the Exposition showed wonderful displays of fine fruit and vegetables, but none are shown more artistically than those of the Canadian exhibit. The Canadian apples, for instance, are put up in odd shaped baskets, and when set together in a mossy or grassy bank make a geometrical figure, and from a distance these red and yellow apples look like flower beds.

Then there is a little artificial river with a painted mountain and villages for its background, all to show how the great Northwest looks and how rapidly it is being settled.

The things that pleased the crowds most, however, were the toy steamers that ply up and down this river and the little train loads of grain that are brought to the toy elevators to be stored there. These steamers and trains run regularly and the steamers stop at their docks and then make the return trips while the little trains run around the country, up grades and down, through tunnels and across bridges, just as real trains do. And take it all in all, it is a most wonderful display.

On the Spur of the Moment

FROM OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT

Our faithful correspondent, Richmond Temple, writing from London, comments upon the American appetite for grilled fish—usually cooked—followed by a special meat. As for Americans, says Latty, they are a law unto themselves for food. Grape fruit, melon and other fruit, followed by bacon and eggs, is a breakfast but, with a steak added, the same things have been asked for as supper.

SO THIS IS ISOLATION!

To place oneself in a detached situation and be insulted means to lose the benefits which come from free and noble intercourse. Mutual dealings and the interchange of thought—perhaps commerce—is conducive to progress. It promotes prosperity. There is

"WILD" STEERING AND ITS CAUSES

Looseness in a Steering Gear Makes Direction Control Uncertain

Occasionally one sees a car which, instead of keeping in "the straight and narrow path," swerves alternately to the right and to the left and takes up most of the road. In these "prohibition" days one is apt to think that this is a "hooch" effect, but more than likely the operator is an ardent follower of Volstead and is guilty only of having let the steering gear of his car go bad.

Cars in this condition are a serious menace to users of roads, especially where the traffic is heavy, and it is the obvious duty of every motorist to keep his steering gear in first rate order, but one which is too often neglected, as the condition of unreliable operation comes on gradually and is frequently tolerated long after it has become positively dangerous.

It is not uncommon to find a car the steering wheel of which can be idly turned more than one-eighth of a revolution without deflecting the front wheels, this lost motion or backlash being accounted for by the combined looseness, due to wear, existing in the worm-and-gear or other mechanism at the foot of the steering column, the ends of the drag link, the king bolts and the yoke ends of the tie rod. In the absence of appreciable looseness at any of these points, the front wheels are held in a definite direction by the irreversible (locking) action of the steering device and, if they are set for straight ahead travel, the car will continue in this direction almost indefinitely, but when lost motion, as above described, exists, the front wheels are not restrained in a definite angular position, but are free to deflect through a considerable angle, large enough greatly to alter the direction of car travel and the direction of this free deflection is in the same direction in which the car has last been intentionally steered. Assume that a car has been headed straight ahead, by turning the steering wheel right handed. The wheels, cannot of themselves deflect to steer it to the left because all backlash has been taken up in that direction, but they are free to wander so as to direct it to the right and road irregularities cause them to do so.

The operator at once turns the steering wheel left handedly to straighten the car, leaving the gear with its backlash taken up in the opposite direction, with the road wheels this time free to deflect further to the left, which they promptly do when they strike a stone. The car then swerves to the left and these actions keep up indefinitely, the car swooping from one side of the road to the other.

ing any damage, but it would perhaps be safer to have the piston and ring clearance slightly increased.

WILL RADIATOR LEAKS STOP THEMSELVES?

W. D. writes: "My car was in a collision the other day and the radiator was strained severely enough so that water weeps slowly out of several of the six-sided openings, both from the front and back. At the service station where they fixed up my car, they told me it wouldn't pay to have the radiator taken off and repaired, as the leaks would fill up with rust and stop after a while. You think so?"

Answer: Such slight leaks often do fill up with particles, carried in the water, which escape through them, until they stop temporarily at least, but they are likely to start again whenever the radiator is cleaned out. Perhaps you might as well wait and see what happens, deferring repairs until they become necessary. If the leaks should ever become serious, while your car is on the road, you can probably stop them, for the time being, by forcing thick white lead into the defective cells, both from the front and the back.

you couldn't see your hand before you."

There were a few other questions and the "What was the color of this horse?"

"That was a bay." "That is strange. You say you couldn't see your hand before you. How could you tell the color of the horse?"

There was no answer. "I am asking you," thundered the lawyer, "how could you tell the color of the horse?"

The Adam's apple worked hard. "I don't care anything about this old rattle, anyway," said the farmer, starting to leave the stand.

For heaven's sake let us not become isolated.—Marcel Steinbrugg.

When Henry L. Doherty, the New York banker, lived in Columbus, Ohio, he attended a trial in one of the small villages nearby.

The case concerned the theft of a horse and an important witness was a long-legged farmer with an Adam's apple that was nothing if not dexterous.

The prisoner's lawyer asked him what kind of a night it was when the theft was committed. "It was so goshdarned black that I couldn't see my hand before you."

There was no answer. "I am asking you," thundered the lawyer, "how could you tell the color of the horse?"

The Adam's apple worked hard. "I don't care anything about this old rattle, anyway," said the farmer, starting to leave the stand.

It will perhaps be surprising to know that Captain Fly, the gallant commander, operates a boat and not an airplane.

nothing to prevent our being cautious and understanding the intrinsic value of splendid promises. There is always an inward sincerity in a promise which, even if not kept, is constructive.

Isolation is unfortunate inasmuch as it tends to hamper development. It is partly egotism and that is contrary to the great law, both consoling and obscure, isolation tends to make one hold an inferior place and makes a sorry figure.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE THORN BUSH

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along, looking for an adventure, he heard, behind him, a voice calling:

"Wait for us, Uncle Wiggily! Please wait for us!"

"That can't be the Bob Cat, nor yet the Fuzzy Fox," thought Mr. Longears. "They wouldn't be as polite as that. I wonder who it is?"

He saw a few minutes later, for around the bend in the woodland path came Bobby and Betty Ringtail. The Ringtails were cute little raccoon animals, with rings of fur on their tails.

"Oh, hello, Bobby and Betty!" greeted Uncle Wiggily, as he saw the brother and sister. "Where are you going?"

"We are going adventuring with you," spoke Bobby. "That is if you will kindly let us," added Betty, who was just a wee bit more polite than her brother.

"Why, yes, come along!" invited the bunny rabbit gentleman. "But I am not certain that I will have an adventure."

"I hope you do," spoke Bobby and then the three friends went on through the woods together. They looked this way and they looked that way for an adventure, but none did they see.

All of a sudden, though, Betty's paw slipped as she was walking along, and down a little hill she slid.

"Oh! Oh, dear!" cried Betty Ringtail. "Oh, where am I going?"

"I'll save you!" called Uncle Wiggily. "I'll save you!"

The bunny rabbit gentleman braced his hind paws in the dirt and he caught hold of Betty's dress with his front paws and he pulled and he pulled and he pulled, and finally he pulled the little raccoon girl back on firm ground.

"There! Now you are all right!" said Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, but at her dress! It's all torn!" exclaimed Bobby, pointing. And truly enough, Betty's dress was ripped and torn.

"Oh, my goodness!" exclaimed the little raccoon girl. "What-ever am I to do? Mother will see me tearing my dress!"

"Can't you fix it for me, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Bobby.

"I don't know much about fixing little raccoon girl's dresses," said Uncle Wiggily. "If Nurse Fanny Wizzy were here she could do it very nicely."

As you put the loose leaf back in Floppy Twisttail's book yesterday—with some sticky pine tree gum?" asked Bobby.

"I'm afraid not," answered the bunny gentleman. And then, as he saw a bush near the path he cried: "Ah, perhaps this will do. Here is a thorn bush. Sharp thorns, like pins, grow on it. Maybe I can pin up the hole in Betty's dress so it won't show so plainly."

Copyright, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Uncle Wiggily picked some thorns.

"You know what to do with them," whispered Betty to the bunny. "You stuck me by accident. But stick the Fox in earnest."

"I will," whispered Uncle Wiggily. And when he put in the first thorn he jabbed it so hard in the leg of the Fox that the bad chap cried:

"Ouchie! Wouchie! Oh, a bum-bum bee sting me! Oh, wow!" and away he ran, not stopping to nibble any ears at all.

So it's a good thing Uncle Wiggily found a thorn bush, wasn't it? And if the elephant doesn't pack his trunk full of pink lemonade and run away from the circus before the parade, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily speaking a piece.

Glendale Students Going to University

More than two score Glendale students are registering today at the University of California, branch in Los Angeles. It is estimated over 2000 freshmen will enter for the fall term. Yesterday was given over to English and Intelligence examinations, the latter proving brain-racking to say the least. One of the questions asked was, "What is an artichoke—a fish, animal, reptile or vegetable?"

Many other Glendale young people now are arranging their entrance into the University of Southern California, Occidental and Pomona colleges, California Institute of Technology, University of Redlands, as well as other institutions in other sections of the state and nation.

A. W. Chapmans From Winnipeg Will Visit

Shriners and other Glendale residents are to have the pleasure next week of greeting A. W. Chapman of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, head of the Shrine hospitals in Canada and the United States, who is coming with Mrs. Chapman and daughter, Miss Iris, for a visit with Mrs. Chapman's mother and sister, Mrs. A. M. Wade and Miss Gertrude Wade, of 425 North Louise street.

Mr. Chapman, who has a wide friendship in California, is a trustee of the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. He and his family left Winnipeg September 7, en route for St. Paul, Portland, Ore., and San Francisco.

In San Francisco he will participate in an inspection of hospitals and in the opening of the new Shrine hospital there.

BURBANK OPENING STREETS FOR RESIDENCES

Development Work Done by Far Sighted Officials
Of Neighbor Cities

Work now under way on Angeleno, Tujunga, Verdugo and Providence avenues when completed, open up an entire new residence section of the city, offering many of the choicest homesites to be found anywhere in the Southern California foothills, according to Mayor J. C. Crawford, who recently made an inspection tour of the development now under way.

At present the district is a snarl of sagebrush, shrubbery and weeds, with an arroyo or two thrown in to break the monotony, but Mayor Crawford saw a vision of what this section will be in a few brief months.

The improvement, contracts for which have been let and work actually in progress, means the opening of the above named avenues between Tenth street and Sunset Canyon drive, as well as the grading and paving of said avenues. Many culverts are going in and the work involves a large amount of excavating and filling, the mayor observed.

Firms Change Hands
The Atlas Mixed Mortar Company of Los Angeles has bought out the interests of the Lawrence-Moore Company, owning the rock-crusher that operates in Stough canyon, Mr. Lawrence reports, stating that the plant will be enlarged and give employment to a considerable staff of additional men. G. W. Moore, partner of the old company, will manage the new, while Mr. Lawrence will devote all his time to his jewelry business, which he states has grown so as to demand his full efforts.

All interests of the Burbank Rock & Gravel Company were taken over September 1 by a new corporation, to be known as the Standard Rock & Gravel Company. Mr. Houle will continue to serve as vice-president and general manager. The company has a plant at Roscoe as well as the Burbank unit and is commencing erection of a unit elsewhere, making three in all. This new unit will handle rock exclusively, whereas the present units handle sand and gravel as well.

Harry L. Sinclair, of the Sinclair Printing Company, has disposed of his interests therein to H. E. Bruce, who came here from Marquette, Kan., the first of the year, where he published the Marquette Tribune for twenty-three years. The firm will continue under the old name. Mr. Sinclair, who has been vacationing at Elsinore lake, plans to take a trip to Oklahoma in the near future, where he will visit relatives and old friends.

Booklet Gets Attention
A letter has been received by the Chamber of Commerce from John Reid of the Royal Salt Company, Kanapolis, Kan., commenting as follows on the Burbank booklet sent him at the request of A. W. Wilson of the firm of Wilson-Welch:
"We have carefully given this booklet the 'once over' and it seems very interesting, more so when we realize we have a friend like A. W. Wilson in that city. We assure you we thank you for the courtesy of mailing this booklet."

Orators to Compete
Entries for the home town oratorical contest at the California Real Estate Association convention, for which elimination tests are to be held here at a date to be fixed by the educational committee of the board, now number close to a dozen, William McMillan, chairman, reported, and it is the intention of the board to hold the contests in some public auditorium in Glendale to permit the people of this city to hear what the orators who will strive for the honor of boosting Glendale at the state convention will have to say about the advantages of the city, and also to give them some idea of what the realtors of the city are doing to advance the interests of Glendale.

The date and place for the contest will be announced as soon as the committee has completed the final arrangements.

The plan that is to be adopted by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce for enlisting the aid of the local realty men who are members of the organization in handling the enquiries that are coming in as a result of the advertising campaign was explained by W. L. Twining, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce advertising committee, who stated that the plan will be put into operation within a short time.

Asks Help For Japan
P. J. Haystack made a plea for the co-operation of the members of the board to raise the balance of Glendale's Red Cross quota for the relief of the Japanese earthquake sufferers, urging that the consideration of suffering humanity should be placed ahead of every other interest or prejudice. A request presented by C. Kimberlin, a representative of the Realtors' Blue Book of California, that the Glendale Realty Board and its members as individuals advertise in the publication, was referred to the publicity committee.

ited Mr. Brown's father, J. M. Brown. On the trip from Glendale to Fergus Falls, they went through the Dakotas, stopping off at Madelia, Minn., to visit Mrs. Brown's people, and later stopping at Webster City, Iowa, where Mr. Brown used to live.

In Fergus Falls they disposed of considerable property, sacrificing their former home for one-third of its value. They auctioned off most of the furniture, shipping 4000 pounds of the best pieces, together with a few rugs and other valuables, here to Glendale.

On both the outbound and inbound trips, the Browns passed through Yellowstone park, which they describe as the greatest of all the great wonders of the west. In northern Montana, the heaviest rains of many years were encountered, Mr. Brown's car and one other being the only two to get through in over four weeks.

Everywhere, he says, farmers are dissatisfied and cast longing eyes toward Southern California, which is the Mecca. Even in the towns and cities, eyes are turned wistfully westward. There has been a great slump from the inflated war prices of farm lands and fortunes have been lost. The result is that the towns and cities feel this deflation, in a sharp curtailment of buying power.

Many Farmers Coming
Time may correct this situation, according to Mr. Brown, legislation may co-operate with time in speeding the return to normalcy among the dirt farmers—but meanwhile all who can unload and get out are going to do so.

"In the next two or three years, Southern California is going to see the greatest influx of farmers and small town merchants from the middle west it has had in its history," he says, "and it won't be the fellows without money. They haven't got nerve enough to bring their families to a new land without capital. It will be the fellows who gamely sacrificed their holdings, confident that with a few thousands of cash salvage they can rebuild their fortunes in such live, prosperous cities as Glendale."

Dollar Company Buys Seven U. S. Liners

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The United States shipping board has announced the sale of seven combination cargo and passenger ships to the Dollar company of San Francisco. The ships are to be used in a round-the-world service for five years, touching at San Francisco, Japan, China, Philippine islands, Egypt, Mediterranean ports, New York city and Panama.

It should be placed ahead of every other interest or prejudice. A request presented by C. Kimberlin, a representative of the Realtors' Blue Book of California, that the Glendale Realty Board and its members as individuals advertise in the publication, was referred to the publicity committee.

EAGLE ROCK

VOLLMER SPEAKS ON CRIME CURES

Los Angeles Charter Also Considered by Local Improvement Body

Chief August Vollmer of the Los Angeles police department addressed the Eagle Rock Improvement Association at 8 o'clock Tuesday night, September 11, in the auditorium of the Central school, on the subject of "Crime, Its Detection and Eradication." The meeting was presided over by H. M. Bruce, president of the association. The matter of district representation was brought before the assemblage. Although such representation may be provided in the new Los Angeles charter now being drafted, it was felt that some temporary action should be taken.

W. E. Houston, president of the Greater Los Angeles Association, was also on the list of speakers, delivering a very fine address on "Co-operation."

Zoning Map Finished
Those who desire to see the new Eagle Rock as it has been zoned by the City Planning Commission have an opportunity to do so by visiting the office of the commission in Los Angeles.

A copy will be placed in the local City Hall, however, states Donnell G. Montgomery, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce. Copies of the new zoning ordinance will also be obtainable there, in a few days, he says.

The ladies of the civic committee of the Women's Twentieth Century Club enjoyed a dinner at the clubhouse Tuesday night, September 11, at which time plans were perfected for the Dahlia Show to be given in October.

Social and Personal
All members of the Women's Twentieth Century Club who have not already done so are requested by Mrs. James H. Mosher of 153 Windermere avenue to turn in to her their cards containing the new street numbers, together with telephone numbers, as the year book is about to go to press.

All Eagle Rock could have enjoyed a fish dinner had Messrs. Richardson and Brahm of Sierra Vista street sent home by aero the fine string of fish they caught at Catalina last week on their vacation. With the intrepid fishermen on their highly successful piscatorial outing were their wives.

Mrs. A. J. Branch of 124 E. Canyon road was recently hostess to a number of friends at her beautiful new home. After the dinner a theatre party was formed and took in Mrs. Elgie Lowry Fischer's production of "Three Live Ghosts," under the Community Players' auspices. Covers at dinner were laid for Mrs. L. Nachow of Santa Monica and Mrs. Ludlow and Misses Johnstone and Congdon of Eagle Rock.

Attend Bridge Club
Those attending the session of the Friday Afternoon Bridge Club last week at the home of Mrs. Puffer's mother, 1561 Bellevue avenue, were Mesdames Laura Eddy, W. C. Glenn, C. A. McClintic, A. S. Johnson, Roy Parkinson, L. White, J. B. Squire, H. Marshall, Armstrong and Puffer, and Miss Heiliger.

A "surprise" for Mr. and Mrs. John McNary, who have just returned from their honeymoon trip, was given last Monday night by Misses Louanna and Kathryn McNary of Central and Eagle avenues, the young people of the Occidental United Presbyterian church being entertained. The welcome home was greatly enjoyed by the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sampson and their ten children of 141 Glen Eyrie avenue were among those who attended the United Presbyterian picnic at Bixby park, Long Beach, on Labor Day.

nia, is much pleased with the operation of the community chest. He stated that a recent investigation revealed the fact that this plan is working satisfactorily in a number of communities.

Eliminates Drives
The main feature of the community chest, in the opinion of Dr. Newton, is the fact that it concentrates in one big campaign four or five drives for charitable purposes which now occur at intervals throughout the year. He called attention to the fact that it makes the administration of funds more efficient and businesslike through the avoidance of duplication.

Local merchants will be relieved of the necessity of backing every charitable drive under the operation of the community chest, according to Mr. Whitaker.

"This will do away with a great many solicitations," he remarked. "This is something that every merchant is bothered to death with." Doubt about this feature of the proposition was expressed by Dr. Harrower. He declared that charities which are endorsed by the community chest would continue their solicitations. He admitted, however, that a donation to this fund might be a reason for refusal to contribute to individual campaigns.

Luncheon guests were Frank J. Salmacia of 109 North Brand boulevard and W. H. Daniel of 510 East Broadway. Both are applicants for membership.

Musical Numbers Add To Pendroy Style Show

Added fashion delights for lady's fall and winter wardrobe were shown at the second "afternoon" of the fall opening at the Pendroy Department store.

Beautiful creations of Dame Fashion were presented by a group of models, and hearty applause was given for the tailored dresses, hats, afternoon dresses, dinner and evening gowns, wraps and sport coats shown.

Supplementing the entertainment of the fashion revue was a musical program given by pupils of Mrs. Virginia Freeman.

Mrs. R. A. Puffer, Jr., talented soprano, sang "Soft Snows," "Mah Lindy Lou" and "I Nightingale" (Cadman). She was accompanied by Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb.

Equally as enjoyable were the songs by Mrs. C. N. Cordary, who sang "Will o' the Wisp" and "Twilight of Dreams." She was accompanied by Mrs. Roberta Young.

A song group was also given by Hazel De Vere of Los Angeles. She sang "I Wish I Knew" and "I Cried for You."

Flowers used in decoration were from the Frank Myers home at 332 North Brand boulevard.

Music was furnished by Misses Kapus and Ferguson.
